We, Mrs. Larson's first period class, leave her with all the pleasant memories of her most mature, quiet, and intelligent 9th graders!

Because of Mr. Andy's love for crosswords, I, Elaine Manning, leave him with a year's supply of crossword puzzles to challenge him during class.

I, Sarah Prestwich, leave my book How to Keep your Locker Clean to some deserving 8th grader.

We, Crissy Liddell, Candy Gallo, Debby Miller and Cathy Brewer, leave Mr. Pastore a beard so if he has to shave his off again he will have a fake one.

We, Patti Amos, Kathy Dobosz and Kim Murray, leave all the teachers at JFK because we have places to go, people to meet and papers to sign.

I, Bob Silver, leave Mr. Bloomberg all the homework he never collected and corrected.

We, the Varsity Field Hockey Team leave the Junior Varsity Field Hockey Team a book of excuses to get out of "suicides."

We, Mr. Milroy's biology class, leave him our addresses so when he finishes correcting our papers, he can mail them to us.

We, Elaine Manning, Kathy Vassalotti, Kelly Brantner and Amy Romano, leave an unlimited supply of Baby Ruths to Miss Nealon and Mr. Plamondon so they can "munch out" between classes.

I, Karen Greene, leave Billy Curtin a study hall in which he can be a gym aide for Mr. Elliott and have some smart alec student throw him in the pool and be totally humiliated, as I was

I, Lisa Foy, leave Mr. Sweet still unable to write a complete sentence.

I, Joe Dumas, leave Miss Ryba a model of "Super Frog" since she enjoyed mine tremendously and a larger blackboard so she can leave the notes up long enough for us to copy.

We, Beth Anderson, Traci Buckley, and Diana Cheney, leave Mr. Andy in hopes that next year he will have another Troublesome Trio.

I, Carol Jawrowski, leave Mr. Bodnar with the knowledge that we know what he really had in his thermos.

We, Loreen Owen and Patti Orifice, leave Mr. Charland a body guard to protect him against attacking students like Chip Dumais and Rich Tardif.

We, Miss Ryba's homeroom class, leave her a recording of the Pledge of Allegiance so she can practice saying it slower over the summer.

We, Miss Skirvan's first period class, leave her a book entitled How to tell a Joke Without Really Trying.

We, Dawn Fregeau and Karen Quinn, leave Mr. Stoll a box of stogies to smoke.

I, Margie Kelleher, leave to Mr. Haley's next year math classes an abridged dictionary, so that they can understand him when he talks to them because I sure didn't!

I, Judy Halish, leave Miss Lauria a book of 50 cent coupons from McDonald's so that next year, when I'm not there, she can still get her sundaes.

We, Terry Wylot and Tina Trotta, leave Mr. Ferguson the memory of our faithful visits.

We, Debbie Schroder and Judy Halish, leave Mr. Kiner a toy box full of science equipment to play with in his next year's government class.

We, the students of 24B, leave Mr. Sunter a homeroom just like the one he had this year.

We, Terry Partridge and Julie Tippo, leave Miss Ryba a life time supply of glue for her feather duster.

We, Carol Beebe and Pati Amos, leave Kathy Hoinoski and Angela Diana with lots of luck in the years to come.

We, Steve Palmer and Jeff O'Neil, leave Mr. Sunter nothing .

We, Scott Murray, Bill Chaves and Steve Palmer, leave Mr. Sweet the album "Feelings."

We, the Varsity Cheerleaders, leave to Miss Gademan a year's supply of popcorn for next year's games, and also the song "You Don't Bring Me Flowers."

We, Bill Chaves, Gary Ciampoli, and Jeff Campbell, leave Mr. Bloomberg a book entitled 100 and 1 Ways to Kill The Ayatollah.

We, Schaefer, Speegie, and R.V., leave Mr. Reynolds a great big "thank-you" for being an excellent teacher, an understanding person, and most of all for being a close, helpful friend.

I, Sandy Krajewski, leave Miss Nealon a swim suit so she can swim with the class.

I, Doug Ciemniewski, leave the book I Love Myself to Craig Janney in hopes that he can carry out the tradition.

I, Candy Gallo, leave all my wonderful memories for my sister Denise.

We, Esteban, Juan, Paco, Juanita, Ana, Maria and Mariana leave Mrs. Larson a new class of "bebes"

We, Janice Maznicki, Mary Telesky and Jeanne O'Donnell, leave Miss Ryba a bottle of downers.

I, Lisa Foy, leave Mr. Sunter a razor and a magnifying glass so he can shave his mustache before it becomes visible to the naked eye.

I, Beth Anderson, leave J.F.K. with many special memories that I'll never forget!

I, James Russell, leave Mr. Milroy my individually styled Science notebook to share with his future Science Classes.

We, the Varsity Field Hockey Team, leave Miss Nealon with memories of an almost undefeated season.

We, Melisa Keenan and Michele Manion, leave Mr. Breither a hearty door slam.

We, Elena Ingrassia and Maria Restucci, leave Mr. Reynolds in peace and quiet.

We, Mike Ryan and Sean Kearney, leave the next stageband drummers the job of removing the ink spilled on the drum set.

I, Lynn Peteroski, leave Carmella Vassallo a big bag of gum and candy in place of all the candy I ate of hers.

We, Steve Palmer, Jeff O'Neil, Mike Martinez and Scott Murray, leave Mr. Andy 100 snails in hope someone else will keep the tradition of taking them.

I, Melisa Keenan, leave Mrs. Langlois a final farewell with a big hug and a "thank-you."

We, the ninth grade students, leave Kennedy for good.

We, the yearbook staff of 1980-1981, leave Mrs. Dumais an organizer so she can't blame us for losing stuff .

We, Steve Schaefer and Mike Ryan, leave Dave Schaefer a list of our rank outs to use on Mr. Sampson.

We, Melisa Keenan and Chris Wright, leave Mr. Haley 180 days worth of "fudge. "

We, Maria Restucci and Elena Ingrassia, leave all the gym excuses we used for this year to another in-coming 9th grader.

We, Amy Romano and Sondra Overstom, leave Mrs. McCarthy a copy of all our notes that she wanted to read.

I, Terry Wylot, leave Mr. Ferguson the satisfaction of knowing that there are no more Wylots to put up with.

We, Dave Arsenault and Joe Dumas, leave Debbie Poulin a track field so she won't have to run in public!

We, Toni Pelligrino and Melisa Keenan, leave Mickey Kaufmann and Brian DeLorge our back seat in hopes that they treat it with the proper respect that it deserves.

We, Julie Saienni, Sandy Krajewski, Sara Prestwich, Lisa Naiman, Scott Murray and Joe Kobrinsky, leave Mr. Sunter the book of 101 Jokes That Are Better Than Yours.

We, Mr. Cove's 1st period geometry class, leave Mr. Cove a duck to prove his duck theorem.

We, Deb Holland and Carol Jaworowski, leave Mr. Albano a new lecture for people who fly through doors.

We, Tina Casselle, Diane Cheney, Margaret McDonough and Sharon Badger, leave Mr. Naz. a green and purple polka dotted tie.

I, Kim Derech, leave Patty Connors and Leah Bell, with hopes they won't have to march in next year's St. Patrick's Day Parade.

I, Janice Maznicki, leave Heather Notman the Presidency of the Itty Bitty Committee in hopes she will carry on the tradition.

We, Allison Gates and Maria Croce, leave Mr. Breault a big "thank-you" for putting up with our dumb, but original, questions.

We, Mr. Andy's 5th period class, leave him a set of headphones so he can listen, by himself, to his "music".

I, Shelly Oppenheimer, leave a year round pass to the nurse to any incoming ninth grader who deserved it as much as I did.

We, Marc Desaulniers, Dianne Cheney and Deb Poulin, leave Mr. Bloomberg a pack of clay for his future students to throw around.

I, Patty Amos, leave Mrs. Heye a book on "rank-outs" so she will have enough to get back at Mr. Reynolds.

I, Wendy Picano, leave Miss Gademan a reliable person to help her in the library on Wednesdays.

We, Mr. Milroy's biology class, leave him the $64,000 prize and two new cars, and a small foreign import.

We, Deb Poulin and Dianne Cheney, leave Mr. Pastore the Christmas present we never gave to him.

I, Chip, Dumais, leave the yearbook staff a T-Square and a ruler so that maybe next year they can get things straight.
